Healing Beyond Transfusions: NTR Memorial Trust's Enduring support to Thalassemia-Affected children

Thalassemia is a chronic and Genetic Blood Disorder that affects the body's ability to produce hemoglobin, leading to life-threatening anemia. Children diagnosed with Thalassemia Major often require lifelong blood transfusions, iron chelation therapy, and regular medical supervision. The treatment is expensive and emotionally draining, especially for families from disadvantaged backgrounds.

Understanding this pressing need, NTR Memorial Trust has stepped forward as a lifeline for hundreds of Thalassemia-affected families, ensuring that no child is denied care due to financial constraints.

What NTR Memorial Trust Provides

2. Essential Medication and Ongoing Treatment

Thalassemia management involves more than just transfusions. To address iron overload from repeated transfusions, iron chelation therapy is essential.

The poster features the NTR Blood Centre logo, a 20th anniversary emblem, and the NTR Trust logo. It includes a magnifying glass over a red blood cell. The text is as follows:

The Reality:
Children with Thalassemia Major need blood transfusions every 15 days to stay alive.

- ◆ 3,500+ patients in Hyderabad alone.
- ◆ ₹10,000 monthly treatment cost.
- ◆ Constant pain from iron overload.

Your Role:
One unit of BLOOD gives a child 3 weeks of life. Without DONORS, their struggle is impossible.

Don't Just Live. Give. Donate Blood.

NTR Sujala : A Lifeline of Safe Drinking Water for Communities in Need

Access to clean and safe drinking water remains a fundamental challenge in many underserved regions. Recognizing this urgent need, NTR Memorial Trust launched the NTR Sujala Safe Drinking Water initiative—an impactful, community-focused program designed to ensure reliable access to safe drinking water for vulnerable families.

NTR Sujala is more than just a water supply effort—it is a lifeline for thousands. With a deep commitment to public health and dignity, the initiative aims to bridge the gap between scarcity and security, providing a steady source of purified drinking water to communities most affected by water stress and contamination.

As part of its intensified outreach during the critical period of March and April 2026, the Trust supplied a total of 514 water tankers—200 in March and 314 in April each with a capacity of 5,000 litres. This translated into a daily allocation of 20 litres per family, benefiting over 4,284 families across several underserved locations. For many households, this intervention meant not just access to water, but access to health, stability, and hope.

The success of the NTR Sujala initiative lies in its structured planning, need-based allocation, and consistent execution. By ensuring that clean drinking water reaches those who need it most, the Trust reinforces its mission of uplifting communities and safeguarding lives.

With growing climate challenges and increasing pressure on water resources, the NTR Sujala initiative stands as a model of sustainable humanitarian response—built on compassion, operational excellence, and long-term vision.

Safe drinking water is more than a necessity - it is the foundation of health, dignity and opportunity.

Every drop matters, and through NTR Sujala, every drop is delivered with purpose.
