From the CEO's Desk

"True service begins when we see another person's struggle as our responsibility and their hope as our purpose."

At NTR Memorial Trust, we believe service cannot be momentary. Support may answer a need once—but when that need returns, only commitment sustains. Not a response, but a responsibility that endures.

Our approach is built on a simple yet powerful belief: Service should not be temporary. It should be constant, dependable, and always available.

This is what sets NTR Memorial Trust apart.

We are committed to building INSTITUTIONALISED SUPPORT - systems that are structured, reliable, and designed to serve people not just once, but every time they need help.

When a child with Thalassemia walks in - care is already waiting.

Through the NTR Thalassemia Care Centre, we provide regular blood transfusions, medicines, and continuous medical support—ensuring not just survival, but a healthier future.

When a patient needs blood in a critical moment - there is no delay.

Through our NTR Memorial Trust Blood Centres, we ensure timely availability of safe blood, exactly where and when it is needed.

When a mother searches for safe drinking water - Sujala is ready.

Through NTR Sujala, we provide access to purified drinking water at an affordable cost, extending support even to underserved communities.

When a child seeks education without support - we offer more than schooling.

Through NTR Schools at Gandipet and Challapalli, we provide education, values, and opportunity. At Challapalli, we provide free education- giving children not just learning, but direction in life.

When individuals strive for financial independence - we stand beside them.

Through Shree Shakti Skill Development centres and Shree Shakti Hastakala, we empower women with skills, livelihoods, and the confidence to build their own future.

These are not one-time efforts. They are systems designed to endure.

At NTR Memorial Trust, help is not occasional - it is PERENNIAL. Always present. Always prepared. Always within reach.

As CEO of NTR Memorial Trust, I see every initiative as a responsibility and a promise—to serve with integrity, empathy, and dedication. Guided by the vision of Smt. Nara Bhuvaneswari Garu and inspired by the legacy of Shri Nandamuri Taraka Rama Rao Garu (NTR), we remain committed to transforming lives and creating lasting change.

A Lifeline of Care: Supporting Individuals with Thalassemia

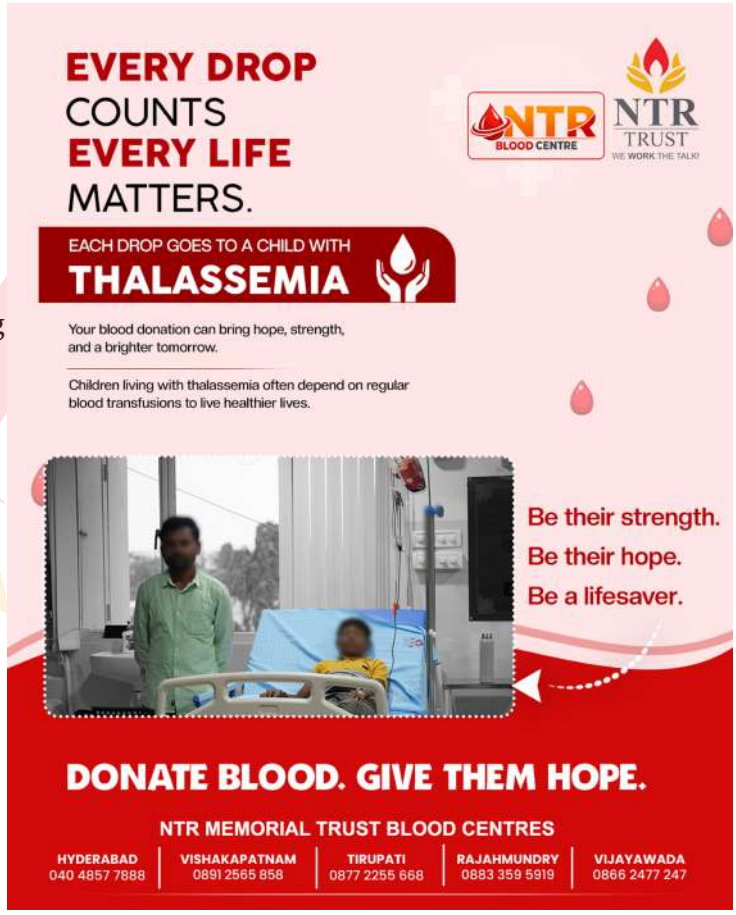

Thalassemia is an inherited blood disorder that affects the body's ability to produce adequate haemoglobin, often resulting in severe anaemia. Individuals with Thalassemia Major require regular blood transfusions, iron chelation therapy and continuous medical monitoring. The lifelong nature of treatment can place a considerable financial and emotional burden on families, particularly those from economically disadvantaged backgrounds.

Recognising the need for consistent and accessible care, NTR Memorial Trust continues to support Thalassemia-affected families by providing essential medical services and reducing the financial barriers to treatment. Its efforts aim to ensure that every beneficiary receives the care needed to manage the condition with dignity and confidence.

What NTR Memorial Trust Offers

1. Free Blood Transfusions and Reliable Access to Blood

NTR Memorial Trust operates blood centres that provide access to safe, quality blood units free of cost. For individuals living with Thalassemia, regular transfusions are essential to maintaining haemoglobin levels and supporting normal growth, daily activities and overall health. By helping ensure access to timely transfusions, the Trust eases a critical aspect of their ongoing treatment.

2. Essential Medicines and Comprehensive Medical Support

Thalassemia care extends beyond blood transfusions. Repeated transfusions can cause excess iron to accumulate in the body, making iron chelation therapy necessary to help prevent complications. Regular investigations and medical supervision are equally important for effective disease management.

NTR Memorial Trust supports beneficiaries by providing essential medicines, including iron chelation therapy, and follow-up investigations free of cost. This continued assistance helps families manage the demands of long-term treatment while enabling beneficiaries to receive more comprehensive care.

The NTR Trust Thalassemia Care Centre remains dedicated to supporting individuals affected by Thalassemia through sustained medical assistance, compassionate care and a commitment to better health outcomes. By making essential treatment accessible, the Trust strives to bring greater stability, dignity and hope to every family it serves.

NTR Sujala: Delivering Safe Water, Sustaining Everyday Lives

Water shapes the quality of everyday life in ways often unseen—until it is scarce or unsafe. For many underserved communities, access to clean drinking water is not guaranteed, and the consequences extend far beyond thirst. It affects health, livelihoods, and the dignity of daily living. Recognizing this urgent and ongoing need, the NTR Memorial Trust launched NTR Sujala—a structured and sustainable initiative designed to ensure safe drinking water reaches those who need it the most.

NTR Sujala is not a one-time intervention. It is a carefully built system that addresses a persistent challenge with consistency and intent. By establishing purification units and enabling community-level access, the initiative ensures that families can rely on safe water every single day. This shift—from uncertainty to reliability—plays a crucial role in improving public health outcomes and easing the burden on vulnerable households.

What distinguishes NTR Sujala is its focus on long-term impact. Each unit is implemented based on local needs, ensuring that the solution is both relevant and effective. The initiative operates with a clear understanding that access must be not only provided, but sustained. Through continuous monitoring and maintenance, the Trust ensures that the flow of safe water remains uninterrupted—reinforcing trust within the communities it serves Beyond infrastructure, NTR Sujala represents a deeper commitment to human dignity. Safe drinking water reduces the risk of waterborne diseases, supports healthier families, and allows individuals—especially women and children to spend less time securing water and more time pursuing education and livelihoods.

In this way, the initiative contributes to broader social and economic well-being.

In a time when water stress is intensifying due to climate variability and population pressures, solutions like NTR Sujala demonstrate what meaningful, community- focused action can achieve. It reflects a model where compassion meets execution, and where service evolvesinto a sustained system of support.

At its core, NTR Sujala stands for something fundamental yet powerful: access to safe drinking water should never be uncertain. It is the starting point of healthier lives, stronger communities, and a more secure future.

Empowering Dreams Through Skill Development

When dreams are given wings, success finds its way.

At the NTR Memorial Trust Skill Development Centre in Kuppam, Kavya, a determined trainee, has taken a confident step towards self-reliance by successfully starting her own beauty parlour. Her journey reflects the power of skill-based training in transforming aspirations into reality.

Through dedicated learning and hands-on training, Kavya has not only built a livelihood for herself but has also emerged as an inspiration for many. Her story reinforces the belief that when women are equipped with the right skills, they uplift not just their families, but also contribute meaningfully to society.

Her achievement highlights an important truth—when skill meets self-confidence, success becomes inevitable.

The NTR Memorial Trust extends its heartfelt congratulations to Kavya and wishes her continued success in her journey of growth and empowerment.

Smt. Nara Bhuvaneswari Garu on Empowerment and Service in Kuppam

Smt. Nara Bhuvaneswari Garu, Managing Trustee of NTR Memorial Trust, reflected on the Trust's journey and its commitment to meaningful service. She noted that the Trust was founded by Shri N. Chandrababu Naidu Garu with a strong sense of purpose and responsibility. Since taking on the role of Managing Trustee, the Trust has, over the past 29 years, consistently worked towards addressing the real needs of the people.

She shared that during visits to Kuppam, there emerged a clear thought—to do something focused and impactful for women in the region. Inspired by this vision, the Trust has been working towards creating opportunities that enable women to become self-reliant.

She emphasized that true support lies in helping women stand on their own feet. This belief, she acknowledged, was shaped by the guidance and vision of Shri Chandrababu Naidu Garu. With a strong conviction that women's empowerment is the foundation of a strong society, and that self-confidence is a woman's greatest strength, the Trust continues to move forward with purpose.

As part of these efforts in the Kuppam constituency, support was extended to various sections of the community—sewing machines were distributed to women, push carts to small vendors, tricycles to persons with disabilities, and hearing aids to those with hearing impairments. These initiatives aim to create sustainable livelihoods and improve quality of life.

The initiative reflects a continued commitment to empowerment, dignity, and inclusive development at the grassroots level..
